translation has long needed a champion and at last in George Steiner it has found a scholar who is a match for the task. Sunday Times first published in 1975, After Babel constituted the first systematic investigation of the theory and processes of translation since the eighteenth century. In mapping out its own field, it quickly established itself as both controversial and seminal and gave rise to a considerable and still growing body of secondary literature. Even today, with its status as a modern classic beyond question, many of the book's insights remain provocative and challenging. For the second edition, George Steiner entirely revised the text, added new and expanded notes, provided a substantially updated bibliography including much Russian and Eastern European material, and wrote a new preface setting the book in the present context of hermeneutics, poetics, and translation studies. Steiner's subject is extravagantly rich, and he ponders it on the most generous scale. His language and his ideas display even handedness, seriousness without heaviness, learning without pedantry, and sober charm. New Yorker

In the twenty-first century, amid globalized violence, rising demagogues, and the climate emergency, contemporary philosophers and theologians have begun to debate a fundamental question: Is our reality the result of the overflowing, ever-present creativity of love, or the symptom of a traumatic rupture at the heart of all things? Drawing on decades of research in postmodern philosophy and experience as a psychotherapist, James H. Olthuis wades into this discussion to propose a radical ontology of love without metaphysics. In dialogue with philosophers like John D. Caputo, Slavoj Žižek, and Luce Irigaray, and others, Olthuis explores issues from divine sovereignty and the problem of evil to trauma and social ethics. Experience in therapeutic work informs these investigations, rooting them in journeys with individuals on the path to healing. Olthuis makes the bold claim that while trauma, pain, and suffering are significant parts of our human lives, nevertheless, love is with us to the very end. Creation is a gift that comes with a call to make something of it ourselves, a risky task we must take on with the promise that love will win. We are all dancing in the wild spaces of love. ex amore cum amore ad amorem
